

JÖNKÖPING UNIVERSITY
School of Health and Welfare

Dear International Student,

Welcome to the School of Health and Welfare at Jönköping University—a place where people come first, and where your unique perspectives enrich our vibrant, global community.

At our school, you'll find an environment that celebrates diversity and fosters creativity. We believe that learning is most powerful when it brings together ideas from around the world. Here, you'll collaborate with students and faculty from many countries, sharing experiences and building lifelong connections.

Your journey at JU will be shaped by:

- Collaboration: Our flexible, interprofessional programs- ranging from Biomedical Laboratory Science and Dental Hygiene to Social Work and Gerontology- encourage teamwork across cultures and disciplines. You'll work alongside peers in fields such as Nursing, Social Work, Occupational Therapy, Prosthetics and Orthotics and more, preparing you for a career in a truly global context.
- Creativity: We invite you to think boldly and contribute your own ideas. Our high-tech simulation labs and innovative teaching methods will help you develop practical skills while inspiring new ways of solving health and welfare challenges.
- Sustainability: We are committed to creating lasting positive impact—locally and globally. Our research and education are designed to support sustainable health and welfare systems, with a focus on societal benefit and long-term solutions.

As an international student, you'll have access to a supportive network, campus activities for those studying on-campus, and organizations that help you feel at home. We value your voice and encourage you to get involved, share your culture, and help shape our community.

We are excited to welcome you to Jönköping and to the School of Health and Welfare. Together, we will learn, grow, and make a difference for people and the planet.

Warm regards,

Catherine Legrand
Dean and Managing Director
School of Health and Welfare,
Jönköping University